

HOLIDAY 2008
Trends

1

High Voltage Vintage

Etcetera is oh, so Mod about you! Purple Passion lives again in the Regency retro trapeze topper shot with silver—ultra cool over skinny black pants and vampy high heels. The details, like barrel cuffs trimmed with faceted faux jet stones, are to vie for.

2

Animals, animals, animals!

Beastie girls, unite. Unleash your inner animal in the thigh-high Serengeti skirt, or your basic instincts in a Manet faux leopard swing jacket. Either way, you'll be a little wilder for the experience.

3

Time to Shine

Break out the Klieg lights...Etcetera pumps glamour into your day/night life this Holiday season. A sure to be favorite: Shine, the gold-silver metallic bustier and skirt. Detach the itty-bitty straps and don't despair! The nine-paneled, boned bodice keeps your sweetheart neckline at the perfect pitch.

4

Flocked

For multidimensional you—style with depth. Flock yourself in a Dark blouse covered in black velvet medallions on black stretch cotton. To temper such exotica, wear with black denim Steel Capris featuring fun little calf zippers.

5

Frankly Feminine

Ruffles are the rage, all right, just check out some of our necklines this Holiday season. You'll see creamy satin undulating down a deeply V'd Glaze blouse, crystal pleats ruffling up the haute Pepper top, and tiny tucks tipping the bib edges of our white tux shirt—each a fantastic contrast and balance to this season's female take on menswear.

But, wait, that's not all. Pull on our Sashay sequined leather skirt and pull out all the stops! Soft, layer-upon-layer of big, bold, black leather sequins just waiting for their disco diva to strut her stuff.. Coyly counterbalance with Beluga—a fluttering, silk chiffon illusion of innocence.

HOLIDAY 2008 Trends

6

Japanese

East meets West in stunning simplicity. The black magic Nero kimono-wrap sweater goes everywhere, with everything. For more Geisha-wear, consider the obi-backed cocktail jacket that guarantees your departure from the “party of the season” will be every bit as memorable as your well-orchestrated entrance.

7

Tough Girl Chic

You know the type. She’s faux bad. She wants the world to think that somewhere, deep inside, she is one hot mama that only loyalty to her family keeps in check. This season, you’re free to be her. Don the gold-burnished black Zone jacket when wearing our perfectly respectable black mock turtleneck sweater and a pencil skirt (Anise or Cinema), then feel the danger of grunge stoke your attitude.

8

Dressed Out

Life’s hard enough to deal with—hair, makeup, intimates, shoes, and now all this hub-bub over accessories! Simplify. Embrace one-piece dressing. Just slip into a knocked-out dress, like red eyelet Campari, and go. Want to stress even less? Buy seven singularly sensational dresses from our Holiday collection and zip through each week of the season!

9

Textural Interest

Feel the love. The Turquoise jacket will wrap you in mohair luxe and retro 50’s style. This cropped swinger features a single hidden snap closure at the jewel neckline, topped by a removable portrait collar. Makes you warm and fuzzy just thinking about it.

For an even more sensual tactile experience, add the Oxygen pants—a tonal play of black and turquoise in a subtle jacquard weave.

10

The Tight Stuff

You’ll love the way you look when you try on the Modern pants, ’cause they dip in the front and hug in the back. Then stare when you see your skinnier self in our slimming, flattering sheaths.

Slip into Passion, the hot-shot purple dress with jewel trim and big black satin border...you’ll swear you got your sexy back.