

A Closet Full of Clothes and Nothing to Wear!

By Jacqui Amst | Photography by Etcetera | April 15, 2011

Whether I am simply running errands or trying to dress for a big event, getting dressed always seems to be a hassle. I have so many clothes but often have a hard time finding something to wear.

I have found the most incredible business, Etcetera (www.etcetera.com), which works to combat this exact issue. This direct sales clothing company is dedicated to high quality clothing that aids in completing your wardrobe. Etcetera offers not only an exclusive product, but also many complimentary personalized services – one of which is wardrobe consulting.

How does it work? Trunk shows are held four times a year in the home of a local consultant. This one-stop shopping opportunity supplies you with clothes for each fashion season. Rather than continuously buying piece by piece, Etcetera focuses on building wardrobes of quality for clients.

This more European way of shopping helps us to realize what we actually need, and stops the habit of impulse shopping.

Mary Lou Dorio, a Maryland consultant with Etcetera for the past nine years, loves getting to know her clients. Dorio says, "At the trunk show, I can see what they do, what they like to do, and what they feel they are missing."

With varying lives comes uniqueness in our wardrobes. Your wardrobe needs to fit you, and suit your needs. Are you a young mom? Are you a business professional? With over 200 pieces in each collection, your consultant can fit the clothing to your lifestyle.

One-on-one appointments with Etcetera consultants are made around your schedule. Whether you are totally booked until nine or ten at night or you prefer to stop by at six a.m. on your way to work, your consultant will be able to accommodate.

Contact a consultant today at MyConsultant@Etcetera.com to see the "Etcetera Advantage," where the consultant shows how seven items can be made up into eighteen different outfits.

Etcetera will be holding trunk summer trunk shows in Maryland from April 12th to April 28th.